Work, Communication & Interaction Style

Goal-Oriented.

You tend to be goal-oriented and intent on meeting or exceeding the expectations set for you. You have good follow-through on tasks when engaged with your work.

Very Motivated.

You are likely to have a very strong inner drive, which should see you viewed as driven and committed. Team members will generally describe you as motivated to achieve your goals.

Extroverted.

You are more extroverted than most and can be characterized as sociable and outgoing in group settings. Extroverts tend to be energetic, enthusiastic, and active, and you may prefer roles and activities that involve frequent socialization. You should feel comfortable talking to a wide variety of people.

Conscientious.

You are likely to be careful and organized in your work style, and viewed as hard-working and dependable. You are likely attentive to detail and inclined to follow the rules. Across a wide range of job roles, high conscientiousness scores are linked to good performance in the workplace.

Very Cooperative.

You are likely to be very cooperative and obliging, which suggests that you will value harmony in a group situation as opposed to advancing your own interests. You are likely to place a strong emphasis on treating others fairly and with respect, which should see you viewed as someone who is considerate, trustworthy, and perhaps even selfless. Cooperativeness is a trait well suited to service-oriented roles.

Temperament, Attitudes & Outlook

Strengths & Potential Challenges

Strengths

- You will generally have good follow-through and be attentive to goals.
- Conscientious individuals like you tend to perform well across a wide variety of roles and industries.
- You are a highly motivated person with a strong inner drive.
- Neither consistently assertive nor overly deferential, you will be assertive in some situations and not in others.
- You will likely go out of your way to accommodate other people. Your agreeable nature means you should be highly coachable, with an ideal profile for service-oriented roles.
- Sociable and energetic, you are comfortable initiating social interactions and likely enjoy working with others.
- You are likely to display an effective balance of patience and impatience in pursuing opportunities or navigating frustrations with work-related tasks or projects.

Potential Challenges

Development Suggestions

Work Habits

Achievement-oriented by nature, you will benefit from being challenged to achieve even greater effectiveness in a role and to look for opportunities to further refine your strengths and apply them for greater impact.

You should strive to balance doing great work with getting it done in a timely manner. Perfectionism and other pitfalls inherent to highly diligent people can reduce your effectiveness. Don't get so focused on the details that you lose sight of the bigger picture. It's important for you to always keep an eye on the greater strategy, and to ensure your efforts are aligned with achieving it.

Your strong inner motivation and drive are likely to see you do well in a variety of tasks, even in tasks that you do not find intrinsically enjoyable. This strong inner drive can be best utilized in high impact activities where your motivation should see you achieving strong outcomes.

Attitudes & Outlook

Knowing when to take a creative approach is important to accomplishing goals. However, there are also times when using tried and true methods are best for getting things done. The balance is in understanding the situation at hand, quickly learning the relevant history of what has already been attempted, and capitalizing on the more effective strategy.

Interaction Style

Some interactions call for a more direct approach, whereas others may require a gentler touch. When engaging with others, you should make sure to consider the situation, the people involved, and the context to help you determine the level of directness that is warranted.

You are likely someone who will put other people's needs before your own. This is likely to make you a cooperative team player. However, you will be well served by remembering that there are times where you need to put your own interests first. In doing so, you may be better positioned to help others as well as yourself.

As an extrovert, you may benefit from the realization that the most effective way to complete a task is to work hard and avoid distractions. Interacting with others is important for building relationships at work and being part of a successful team. But some tasks need to be accomplished alone. Speaking up in meetings and sharing ideas is valuable, but other people need that chance to be heard and understood. Extroverts who find themselves doing most of the talking may need to make an effort to listen more instead.

Temperament

Persisting is an important characteristic in the accomplishment of tasks and deliverables. However, there may be times when trying a different approach is more beneficial than just trying harder in the same direction. Knowing when to step back and assess the effectiveness of one's approach, and being open to persisting in a new direction, can meaningfully contribute to accomplishing your objectives.

Workplace Stressors & Motivators
